

GIV helps Vermont teenagers find their people and explore their passions through intensive residential learning experiences on college campuses. Our Institutes build on the strengths and interests of curious, motivated young people, using well-supported educational ideas to promote learning, advance personal growth, and support emotional well-being. GIV is an essential investment in Vermont's future.

About Our Students

581

High School Students
from 87 Schools

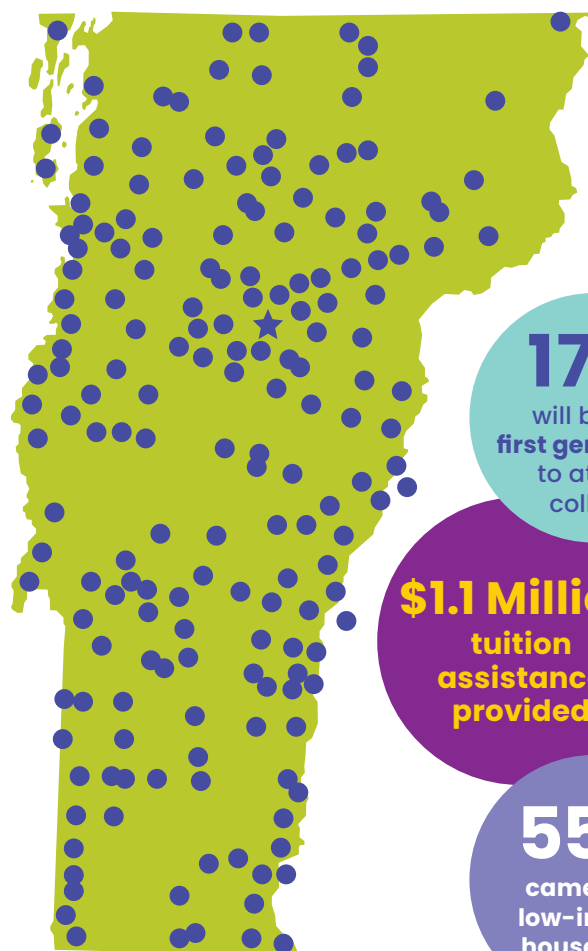

- Young women
52%
- Young men
39%
- Nonbinary
7%
- Prefer not to say 2%

23%
Identified as BIPOC

Summer Institutes

Arts
Engineering
Entrepreneurship
Global Issues
& Youth Action

Health & Medicine
Mathematical Sciences
Technology & Design
Weather & Climate
Science

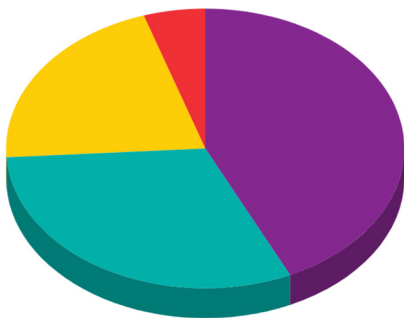

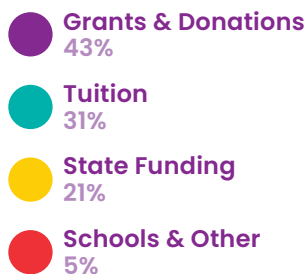

● Communities of 2025 GIV students

17%
will be the first generation
to attend college

$1.1 Million
tuition assistance
provided

55%
came from low-income households

Revenue

"The mass casualty incident gave me confidence in all the skills I learned."

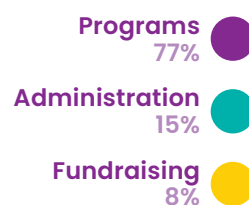

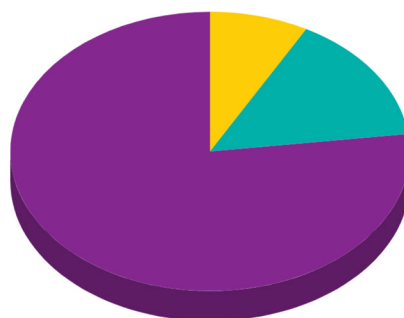

— 2025 Health & Medicine alum

"I have never been a part of such a loving, supportive community. It was truly life-changing."

— 2025 Arts alum

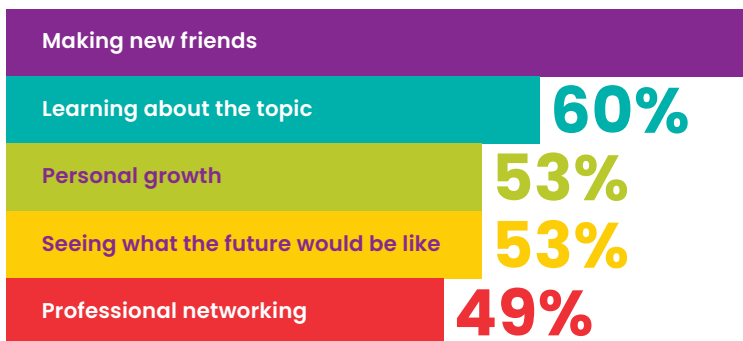

Expenses

Outcomes

"What were the most valuable parts of your experience?"

(Students could select more than one option)

84%

85%
feel ready to take next steps towards their career goals

80%

of students
reported that GIV
programs will influence
their decisions
about education & career goals

83%

reported increased
self-confidence

Long Term Outcomes: Robert Fernandez, GIV 2011 Alum

"It was cool to be around like-minded people learning software that I now use on a daily basis in my career."

Robert Fernandez grew up in Thetford and attended GIV's Technology & Design Institute back in 2011. He's now Motion Capture Stage Lead at Gearbox Software.

